By SEWALL CLARK.

Murder, according to Bob Purcell of 561 1/2 W. Grandview, has been committed in Sierra Madre—but, we hasten to add, "in fictionalized form."

Bill Keith of 561 W. Grandview verifies this by saying that the storybook murder is part of the plot in a mystery novel listed at the Sierra Madre public library, "Before I Wake," by Margaret Echard. Odd part of it is, neither Bill nor Bob could remember the title or the author until they asked Bill's wife and Bob's sister, Elizabeth, who usually is called "Honey," which she is. If it hadn't been for her, we'd be talking about a book entitled "Suchandsuch" written by "Somebodyorother."

In the course of tracking the information we wondered if perhaps the book had been written by Frances Crame, another mystery writer who, the same as Margaret Echard, lived here during World War II. There have been a lot of writers from this town who have hit the big time.

We learned about the book through the happenstance of having visited the Stringfellow estate just recently, where our host was Bob Lyon who, with his wife and three children, lives in one of the two houses remaining on that beautiful three-acre place. We say "remaining" because there was a third house belonging to that emerald-lawned retreat before purchase by Doug Lance, local "Family Service" promoter, who later sold it to Page and Frazier Dougherty at 509 W. Grandview.

We could make it even more complicated if we wanted to tell you that both Lyon and Dougherty work for U. S. Producers in Pasadena and that Lyon is married to one of the Stringfellow girls, Florence, who now is vacationing with the three kids—Penelope Boothby, 12 years old; Robert Cyrus, Jr., 8; and William Sutton, 6—at the Catalina home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Stringfellow, Sr., who also have their own home at 497 W. Grandview.

Small, but sometimes complicated, world—isn't it?

Later, when we mentioned the happy evening to Bob Purcell, he told us that the Keiths and he not only lived close by but that they had read this Sierra Madre locale book, "Before I Wake," which describes those sections of town including the home of Jo and Stender Sweeney across the street, and the "red trolleys" that used to run here AND the Sierra Madre NEWS!

So we finally made it—murder yet!

During our visit at Bob Lyon's home we talked boats. We just naturally love boats and we wish that the many sailors from Sierra Madre would stop sailing just long enough to give us a bit of news about themselves. If we told you how many hours we have spent in the last two weeks trying to reach some of them by telephone you wouldn't believe it.

Can't blame them, though. Who wants to be bothered by a telephone when he can have that wide open sea to soothe his nerves?

So, in talking boats with Engineer Lyon, we learned about modern kayaks—and that he has gone the Eskimos one better. The fiberglass kayak which he designed, 14 feet in length, won eighth place last month in the world famous Arkansas River race in Colorado.

Considered the most dangerous of all "white water races" (white water is where the rocks lie, pal), the 27-mile course from Salida, Colo., ending just above the Royal Gorge, draws professional champion competitors from all over the world, especially France, Germany and Switzerland. Bob's fiberglass boat, which led most of the 30 entries, had most of its keel ripped to raw bottom by the time it finished.

But it was still in there, pitching—in more ways than one.

How many of you guys in the audience are from that beautiful state of Maine? The reason we ask is because all this talk about shooting the rapids

RESIDENTS OF SIERRA MADRE VILLA, in Pasadena, and those living on adjoining properties in Sierra Madre learned about the fast, savage spread of fire Friday afternoon when coordinated crews from many sections fought the dry-summer inferno for many hours which, even when considered under control, kept firefighting men on the scene for three days and two nights. The men in this picture were some of the Indian "hot shot crews"—known as Zuni, Navajos, and Taos—who were called along with others to save more than 200 homes in the Hastings Ranch and Sierra Madre area. Sierra Madre Fire Chief Jim Heasley, who writes "Fire Flames" in the NEWS, constantly has warned against such fires.—(Kassler Studios Photo by Bert Embree.)

WHEN 35 ACRES OF FIRE threaten a man's home it makes him think twice, and more than twice, about that careless cigarette thrown from the car or a campfire that is almost, but not quite, extinguished when abandoned by campers. The men in this picture were not responsible for the fire. Rumors have it that several young people were seen leaving the location when the flames broke loose, but regardless of the cause the results were terrifying.—(Kassler Studios Photo by Bert Embree.)

Registrations for Day Camp End at City School Tomorrow

Registrations for the first week of the Sierra Madre Day Camp will be accepted at City School until 2:30 p.m. tomorrow, according to Recreation Director Philip Mitchell.

The first week, beginning Aug. 8, is for children entering second and third grades this fall, and is open to all Sierra Madre children, as is the second week of the program for fourth, fifth, and sixth graders.

All campers are asked to bring a plate of durable material, a knife, fork, bathing suit and towel. In addition, all non-swimmers, both boys and girls, must have red bathing caps. Non-swimmers and those less experienced are kept in the shallow end of the pool, and red caps make for better supervision.

The Day Camp begins with a bus pickup starting at 6:30 a.m. "With our early morning program, we are trying to give the boys and girls a feeling of a real camp experience," Mitchell says. "After a morning of hiking, crafts, a visit to the museum, and games, we finish with a refreshing swim for the last hour. The youngsters are then ready for a rest in the afternoon."

The $4 fee for the younger group, and $4.50 for the older, includes breakfast, transportation, swimming and craft materials for the entire week. Reservations and remittances may be made by mail, with checks payable to the Recreation Department.

Volunteer parents wishing to spend an hour or so in the early morning, with the smell of bacon and eggs in the fresh morning air, may call Mitchell at Custer 5-2437 to offer their assistance.

The bus stops will be at approximately 6:30 a.m. at Michillinda and Sierra Madre Blvd., then north on Michillinda to Grandview, east to Canon Ave., south on Canon to Sierra Madre Blvd., and west on Sierra Madre Blvd. to the Villa Park.

The bus will stop at any intersection for campers, and the return trip will be made at 12:15 p.m., reversing the route. The Day Camp will conclude the summer recreation program for elementary school children.

Engineering Staff Visited By Movie Men

Officials of Twentieth Century-Fox Film Corporation working on the new Cinema-scope production "Windblast," visited Sierra Engineering Company last week accompanied by the Air Force technical advisor for the new picture.

Colonel Arthur Henderson, the advisor, is Assistant Chief of the Air Force Medical Laboratory and is featured in the August issue of National Geographic where his record work in high altitude parachute jumps is described.

"Windblast" will feature aero medical research conducted by the Air Force, including rides by anthropometric dummies and scientists on rocket sleds to study effects of deceleration and windblast on humans. Data from such research are used to effect a safe combination between humans and advanced military equipment.

Portions of the data also are useful to designers of civilian equipment, including seat belts that reduce automotive crash injuries and fatalities.

Local Coach's Baseball Club To Be Teeveed

A successful baseball coach and manager for young players is Bill Jack, owner of "Andy and Bill's Friendly Service," the Seaside service station and garage at 345 W. Sierra Madre Blvd. His "All-Star" team from the Sierra Madre-Pasadena area will be televised at 11 o'clock Saturday morning over KHL-TV, Channel 9, when it plays Oakland for the state championship.

Jack, who has lived in Sierra Madre since 1948, has been active in many fields of baseball most of his life. One of his teammates in high school baseball was Jackie Robinson, now one of the world famous Brooklyn Dodgers.

A member of the Pasadena Sports Ambassadors, he has been promoting baseball for young people in this area for almost five years. If his team wins Saturday it will play the winner from other western states—Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico, and Nevada—for the chance to go to the "World Series" playoffs in Austin, Tex., where the champion teams from seven other regions throughout the United States will compete.

The way a lot of people see it, Jack's team has a good chance of playing on Texas soil. In one game, against the Antelope Valley "All Stars," his boys won 33 to 0 in a game that was stopped at the end of four innings because of the slaughter.

By Martha Coutant

There is a brighter—and less publicized—side of the teen-age picture that deserves recognition, although it won't make sensational headlines. It's a big deal in the U.S., Canada, Alaska and Hawaii: the Kiwanis-sponsored high school service club, known as The Key Club. In California alone there are 2,140 members, in 117 clubs.

These thousands of boys are too busy abiding by the club's motto, "We Build," to make the "Most Wanted Man" list. Only once a year, at the annual convention, do the boys let themselves in for publicity on a large scale.

The 1955 convention was held in Detroit, July 3-4-5-6. Among the 1500 delegates from 1300 schools, were Richard "Tarb" Draeger and Bob Sweet of Sierra Madre. Bob represented the Pasadena High Club and

Annual Budget for School Approved

Only Tax Increase Is for $3500 Recreation Allotment

The 1955-56 budget for Sierra Madre city schools was approved during the annual budget hearing at City School, 141 W. Highland, Monday evening. The total is $242,900.

The only change made at the meeting was the approval of $3500, appropriated for the recreation budget, which is shared by the city and the school district.

The funds for recreation are provided by an excess five-cent tax, which is available for recreation purposes only.

"No part of these funds may be used for general school purposes," Superintendent Charles Skutt stated, "and any portion not used is retained for recreation for the following year."

Contrary to previous reports by another newspaper, stating that a three and one-half percent school tax increase has been set, there has been no increase in school taxes as compared to last year. The only increase has been one and one-half cents per $100 property evaluation for the comparatively small share in which Sierra Madre's recreation commission has made a limited bid, according to Superintendent Skutt and members of the school board.

The school district has never appropriated the entire five cents allowable by law, according to Skutt. Three and one-half cents will be levied for 1955-56.

Of the $500 total appropriation for transportation, which includes field trips, $150 was allocated to assist in a particularly hazardous problem in the northeast section of Sierra Madre, brought about by curtailment of the bus service.

The $242,900 is comparable to last year's expenditures of $238,701.

The annual report was accepted and approved for distribution.

Hornaday's Dept. Store To Open Here

A new department store will be opened in Sierra Madre the latter part of August or early September at 154 W. Sierra Madre Blvd. To be known as "Hornaday's," it will be similar to the store owned by Eugene R. Hornaday in Pasadena at 2516 E. Colorado St.

The new store, which will include departments for men, women and children, also will offer its own parking lot for 43 cars and "S & H" green stamps to all customers.

During its "Grand Opening," exact date of which will be announced later, door prizes with a total valuation up to $500 will be given to many of those who attend. Aside from the lucky winners, the management has announced that there will be savings, surprises, and fun for all.

Hornaday, who will personally supervise the store, is hiring two Sierra Madre women to supplement his staff at the new address. They are Mrs. Charles Perline, 115 Esperanza, and Mrs. Edward Summers, 155 W. Grandview.

Council OK's Most Home Occupations

On July 26 the City Council adopted an amendment to the old zoning ordinance of 1938 permitting the use of garages and home accessory buildings for vocations or trades carried on at home. In response to public demand this amendment, known as Ordinance No. 557, assures that most small shops and offices now being operated in residential zones will not be disturbed by the new zoning ordinance which, it is expected, will be passed soon.

The new ordinance will limit greatly the type of home occupations which may be carried on in the future. But the July 26 amendment to the 1938 ordinance legalizes many such vocations which, in the past, have been operating illegally. The words "accessory buildings" have been added to Section 4-A of the old ordinance.

YOUNGLAND TO BE MOVED TO NEW SITE

Youngland, the children's department store at 34 N. Baldwin Ave., will be moved into larger quarters within 30 to 60 days, according to the owners, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Wolfe. The new address will be the former site of the Sierra Madre Hardware, 31 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

No exact date so far has been set because Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe are planning such extensive interior and exterior improvements that it may be several weeks before the last finishing touch can be determined.

The store, which has been doing business here for nine years, caters to children from infant age to the mid-teens in every department from clothes to furniture.

Prize Movie At Library Tonight

The prize-winning, 30-minute motion picture, "In the Beginning," which will be shown without charge tonight in the Sierra Madre public library's Community Room, has achieved several honors for its producers, General Petroleum Corporation.

The showing, which debuts the Community Room's new audio-visual equipment given by Friends of the Library, will begin at 7:30 o'clock. The program was arranged by Lee Shippey, novelist and newspaperman.

Key Club Brightens 'Teen Scene

Tarb the Muir group, of which he is president.

Tarb is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Draeger, 75 Esperanza, and Bob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Sweet, 31 E. Bonita.

Most of the year the boys assist with fund raising for Red Cross and Community Chest, and getting out the vote. Many are outstanding athletes. They are student body officers, serve at banquets, in Civil Defense projects, and are active in clubs. But once a year, those who can avail themselves of the opportunity, are on the receiving end.

Through the combined efforts of Kiwanis, the Southern Pacific R.R., and fellow Key Clubbers, delegates are able to make a sweeping tour of the states, at half the usual expense.

The 1955 15-day itinerary, giving the impression the boys traveled by rocket, was made possible by traveling at night and sightseeing by day. The S.P. arranged connections for the private car, with the least delay.

Bob drove with friends, while Tarb made the train trip.

Tarb also managed a side trip alone, hiking in Yellowstone National Park. Although he says the highlight of his trip was the convention, he'll never forget one moment in Yellowstone.

Editor's Note: The opinions expressed in Mr. Shippey's column are not necessarily those of the editors and publishers of the NEWS. If you disagree with Mr. Shippey, who asks, "What Do You Think?", please address your letters to this paper or to Mr. Shippey. It is the intention of THE NEWS to stimulate provocative thought and what YOU think is an important part of our program in presenting both sides to public questions of the day. Naturally, we cannot use letters which are abusive or unsigned. We not only invite, but encourage you to use our "Letters to the Editor" column.

Marge Thomas, this paper's society columnist, wants this column to start a move to get all our merchants to put window boxes full of flowers in front of their stores. Nothing else so cheap, she thinks, would give our town such distinction. It would attract an endless stream of visitors—and shoppers. It would make ours a town all the people for miles around would wish their visitors to see.

It also would immeasurably raise our prestige as a community which cares for the finer things of life.

By golly, it would! But I've been trying for three years to

Special Events Highlight New Supervised Recreation Series

Various special events have highlighted the Recreation Department's summer supervised playground program this year along with the crafts and sports activities sponsored at City Park from 10 to 12 o'clock the mornings of Monday through Friday for children who are seven years of age or older.

The afternoon hours at the park are from 1 to 3 o'clock, at which time a variety of games, story telling, singing, and square dancing are featured.

"Wheel Day," July 22, was counted a success by the recreation staff not only because more than 85 children attended but also because they produced a variety of decorated bicycles, wagons, baby buggies, other vehicles and costumes which, in some cases, showed a high degree of inventiveness.

Mrs. Stanley Coutant, a member of the school board, and Philip Mitchell, recreation director, acted as judges of the paraded entries. The awards were as follows:

Largest entries, Skip Jenkins in a pushmobile, and Forrest Watts, a wagon; smallest entries, Lou Ann Chambers, tri-cycle, and Kitty Wittig, bicycle.

Judged the most original were the covered wagon by Pat Chambers and the bicycle by Sally Smith; most unusual, Debbie Watts' bicycle and Jean Goodsell's old-fashioned wagon; most colorful, the flexee of Don Jackson, Jr.'s, and Susie Stirtor's bicycle.

The games and races conducted during the day included scooter-hockey and bicycle time races, with first place in the latter going to Bill Daws, second place to Terry Tidmore, and with David Tiller moving in for third honors.

In the obstacle race Duncan Cason was first, John Daws second, and Terry Trousdale third. Terry Trousdale won first position in "bicycle musical chairs," Bill Keith was second, and Rosemarie Wittig third.

The afternoon concluded with foot races and wheelbarrow dashes, two events that produced great amusement and applause.

Last Friday at City Park was "Skate Day," featuring skate races, musical chairs, and other events for all those on foot-attached "vehicles."

The crafts program, supervised by Mrs. Joyce Gallaher, assisted by Richard Draeger, Jean McKesson, Sandra McLain and Susan West, has provided materials and instruction in the making of wood fibre flowers, blue print designs, cork work, ceramic painting, glass decorating, plastic braiding and paper work.

The remainder of the summer calendar is as follows: Today a motion picture, "Fugitive Valley," will be shown at the auditorium of City School, 141 W. Highland Ave., beginning at 1:15 p.m., with a charge of 10 cents per child.

Tomorrow, "Pirate Day" will be the recreation theme, with a parade of costumed "pirates," treasure and scavenger hunts, along with games and races to be held from 10 to 12 o'clock in the morning at the park. A swimming party will end the program.

For the swim, the children will be taken by the school bus leaving the park at 1:15 p.m., or one hour at the Wagner's pool. Charges per child will be 10 cents for transportation and 25 cents for the pool.

During Aug. 8 through 19, Day Camp activities will be the main attraction. All registrations for this event should be made at City School.

Aug. 22 through 24 will be set aside for another crafts program at City Park, ending the summer activities with a watermelon party.

BARBARA JEAN TATE'S CAT AND POEM PUT HER IN 'MONEY WRITERS' CLASS

Barbara Jean Tate, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tate, 350 N. Lima, placed herself in the class of professional writers when she received a check for $2 from the San Francisco Examiner last week.

Along with the check was a Winner Certificate: "presented to you in recognition of your winning contribution to Juniorama. Congratulations! Keep reading and keep trying." It was signed by Walter Wallaby, editor, Juniorama Playland.

In the Sunday section, devoted to drawings, stories, poetry and other contributions by children, Barbara's poem, entitled "My Cat and I," reads as follows:

I have a cat named Jingle, Who's as cute as cute can be. With people he loves to mingle, And how he loves to play with me.

In the basket on my bike, He finds a pot to put his head. What a crazy little like To love such a silly bed.

Everywhere I go he follows me; I guess he just doesn't like to be single.

But all the places and people he loves to see.

Don't you wish you had my Jingle?

(ED'S NOTE: Reprinted, we hope, with approval by the San Francisco Examiner and the permission, we're sure, of Barbara Jean Tate.)

Your answer depends on what you're adding. Two apples plus two apples always equal four apples. The difference (in your favor) is the interest that is added, as earned, to your original deposit, and compounded regularly. Child Deaths In Drownings Hit New High

Due to an unprecedented wave of accidental drownings in Los Angeles County, Sheriff E. W. Biscailuz has issued an urgent appeal to all parents and property owners for an intensive campaign to guard the life and well-being of our children by following these simple rules:

1. Never leave children unattended in or beside a pool even for a short time. Thirty unguarded seconds may take a life.
 2. Fence in your pool with a good small mesh wire fence and see that all gates are self-closing and self-locking which will eliminate the gate accidentally left unlocked.
 3. Never swim alone. You might be seized with a cramp and need assistance.
 4. Do not swim in reservoirs, debris basins, or abandoned gravel pits. Underwater rocks or other obstacles may cause serious injury or death and there are no lifeguards or attendants to assist you should you need help.
 5. Call your nearest Sheriff's station if you discover any abandoned, uncovered oil well, water well, cistern or cesspool.
- "The application of these rules," Sheriff Biscailuz says, "will go a long way towards eliminating these needless tragedies and will help to keep our children happy, healthy and safe."

Boy Scout Notes

Participating in the cooperative training course between the Explorer groups and the Air Force Training Command, five Explorers from local Troop 376, sponsored by the Episcopal Church of the Ascension, spent last week at Norton Air Force Base in San Bernardino.

Raymond Smith, Tony Wilcox, Chris Mecca, Tom Steele and Bob Joehnk joined 170 other Explorers at the base and shared in the life and work of the maintenance airplane shops and jet motor division. They returned to Sierra Madre Sunday.

Accompanying the boys were several of the troop committee men—Woodrow Mecca, Rev. Harvey Gibbs Smith and Emile Smith.

An interesting feature of the visit was an airplane trip over Southern California in a C-46, at which time the boys had the opportunity of standing in the pilot's cabin to watch the operation of the plane.

Davey-Cosand Nuptials July 31 in Alhambra Friends Community Church

Janet Ruth Cosand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oran Thomas Cosand of Alhambra, became the bride of Richard Alexander Davey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Davey, 84 Monterey Lane, at a double-ring ceremony July 31 in the Alhambra Friends Community Church. Mr. George Jenkins, pastor, officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a waltz length gown fashioned with a fitted bodice of white lace and a full tulle skirt over satin. Her French illusion veil was held in place by a coronet of lace and seed pearls. Her bouquet was a cascade of white orchids and bovardia.

Pale blue silk shantung princess style dresses were chosen for the maid of honor, Constance Berry, and the bridesmaids, Frances Cosand, sister of the bride, and Dorothea Gregory-Allen. The girls carried bouquets of yellow carnations.

Steven Mulholland was best man and the ushers were Darrell Wilcox and Dick Hydice.

White stocks, glads and daisies were used in the church decorations for the candlelight rites.

A reception was held in the community rooms of the church following the ceremony.

The bride's mother chose an afternoon dress of dusty pink and wore an orchid corsage.

The groom's mother was dressed in an antique blue suit with pale blue accessories. She also wore an orchid corsage.

The bride is a recent graduate of Whittier College. The groom is a graduate of Sierra Madre Elementary School and attended Pasadena City College. He has recently received his discharge from the U. S. Patricia Padgham Becomes the Bride Of Kenneth Graff in Home Wedding Patricia Padgham, daughter of the late Dr. John Thomas Padgham and Mrs. Leland Prime Marsh of 657 W. Grandview Ave., exchanged nuptial vows with Kenneth Graff, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Byron Graff of Grinnell, Ia., in a double ring ceremony July 31 in the Marsh home.

The Rev. George Lichty from the Church of God of the Abrahamic Faith, Pomona, officiated in the presence of 26 guests.

The bride, given in marriage by her step-father, designed and made her wedding gown which was fashioned of white lace over pale blue antique taffeta. The street-length princess style lace dress fitted over the taffeta sheath. She wore matching mitts and her shell-type hat was covered with iridescent sequins and had a nose veil.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white phalaenopsis and stephanotis with tufts of pale blue tulle mingled with the flowers. White ribbons were used for loops and streamers.

The maid of honor, Kathy Cadinha of Kikei, Maui, Territory of Hawaii, a friend of the bride's from her Whittier College days wore a deep blue taffeta princess style dress and carried a bouquet of white carnations with loops of pale blue ribbon. Her flowered headband was made of feathered white carnations and blue tulle.

Milo D. Nurdyke of Livermore, Calif., served his brother-in-law as best man.

The mothers of the bride and groom wore pastel dresses and corsages of tuberous begonias. Large bouquets of white-stock, glads and lilies were used throughout the decorations in the home.

joyed by over 100 relatives and friends.

Beginning Sept. 6, scheduled meetings will again be preceded by dinner at 6:30 p.m. All Masons are invited to attend. Reservations may be made by calling Sam Simpson, at Custer 5-3183, or William Bowers, Custer 5-0698.

Lions Club Members To Attend Installation

Milo Young of the Los Angeles County Probation Office was principal speaker at a recent Lions Club meeting held at the Sierra Madre Woman's Club.

Mr. Young explained the organization of the department as regards juvenile and adult probation. He pointed out that the young men who are confined in mountain detention camps are excellent fire fighters and road builders as well as accomplishing much in maintenance work on existing fire roads.

Because of these services the project is not a financial burden to the state since the Forestry Department reimburses the county.

Various members now back from vacations told of their trips and experiences. Lion Red Waite won the week's attendance record and Doc Wall introduced his guest, Ricky Ricardo.

Members of the local Lions Club will attend the installation ceremonies for the officers of the newly-formed South Arcadia-Live Oak Lions Club

New Bill Service For Gas Company

Modern automatic billing equipment has been put into operation the first time by Southern Counties Gas Co. to give more efficient service to the utility's ever-increasing number of customers. A. E. Madden, division manager for the company, has reported.

The new method of billing follows a year and one-half of planning and preparation and San Gabriel Division is the first of the company's eight operating divisions to put the new system to use, Madden reported.

He said, however, that aside from some punch holes in the customary postcard-bills customers would not be aware of any changes in the company's billing methods.

The new method of billing shortly will be effective for customers living in Sierra Madre, Arcadia, Monrovia and Duarte.

Straightened circumstances cause some men to go crooked.

Aroma of 'Hartman's Mush Fry' Bids for Tradition Here

A local origination now making a bid for becoming a village tradition in Sierra Madre is "Hartman's Mush Fry."

The whole thing began in July, 1954, when two clerks at the pharmacy, Dorothy and Dick Jenkins, prepared for their departure for a six-week vacation in the New England states. Then, because birthdays are always celebrated by the personnel at Hartman's, Mrs. Betty Burr asked for a return engagement of the "Mush Fry" instead of the usual cake and coffee when her birth date arrived in October of the same year.

So the Hartman's crowd had a second "Mush Fry" October 30, 1954, which proved such a sustained success that the staff has been making it a celebrated occasion ever since.

One of the reasons for its popularity has to do with neighbors and passers-by who, catching just one whiff of the aroma of fried cornmeal mush and bacon in the back alleyway of Hartman's during the early morning hours, have stopped by with a hungry—and sometimes pleading—look, as if to say: "Could I have just one taste?"

Because the answer is always yes, the "Hartman's Mush Fry" last Friday drew a crowd that kept all four of the electric fry pans, personal products of the staff because they are made by Sunbeam on sale at Hartman's, increasingly busy during most of the morning.

(So that's a free publicity plug, so?)

The occasion Friday was for Jane Lange, Flo-Ree Pascoe, and Nancy Rogers—three of the attractive clerks at Hartman's Pharmacy who are leaving the establishment this fall to embark upon their college careers.

According to the Hartman staff, the folks there and elsewhere have enjoyed the occasion so much that they intend to make it a regular event whenever a special celebration is in the making.

The neighbors and 8:30 a.m. passers-by join them in hoping they will keep it going. The aroma of fried mush, bacon, coffee, and other breakfast attractions is not easily forgotten—especially when served in the "back yard" of one of Sierra Madre's oldest businesses and a professional establishments.

the Colt League championship playoffs last Saturday at the St. Francis field in La Canada. Buddy, who plays for the Pasadena Junior Chamber of Commerce, knocked in the winning run and scored the insurance run as the Chamber went on to win, 3-1. They also won the Colt League championship. Buddy just missed out making the All-Star team which will play next week. But Buddy has nothing to be unhappy about for he had a great season all around; fielding very well in his rightfield post, and he ended the season with a powerful .343.

Artist Ted Velasquez Reports On Morgridge Show at Library

Is there art in architecture? Artist Ted Velasquez, member of the Exhibits Committee of Friends of the Library, frames his opinion of the new Morgridge one-man show at the Library, as follows:

There must be art in architecture as any viewer may well agree after seeing the exhibition now hanging in the Library Community Room. Howard Morgridge's exhibition is one of the most unique and versatile exhibits ever presented in Sierra Madre.

He has a keen sense of perception in his work plus important elemental relationship of design. The word monotonous is certainly obsolete in this show for each piece of art work is so different in mood and color that one might think this exhibit to be the work of many artists. Morgridge has a technique most artists would like to have. He has a sound sense of color with an easy flow to his work which intrigues the viewer.

Many of Howard Morgridge's oils have a casein suggestion to them. Texture can be as important as color and the artist has used both to good advantage. Analysis of his work also reveals sure control of line. Two of his paintings, done while in Japan, show a delicate and Oriental touch with clean color areas.

His use of whites in these two paintings is carried out very wisely, giving them a brilliant and harmonious combination.

The painting, Taxco Textures, has a striking, bold feel to it with a sound use of color. The painting also has a direct and well planned use of color with a technique of sumptuous quality.

There is a great deal of art in architecture and this architect, whose work we are lucky to see locally, also has proved that there can be architecture in art with sound and flexible technique.

Along with it is the clever and affectionate collection of ancient and modern crafts of Mexico shown by local artist Norma Chuan, whose work also is on exhibit at the Festival of Arts in Laguna.

With BOB BROGGER

In the July 20 issue of the Sporting News, known throughout the world as the "Bible of Baseball," was a special feature on American Legion baseball. It was a very good article. It praised the work of the Legion program which operates all over the United States. Today there are about 225 graduates from this marvelous output of junior baseballers.

Here is what a few of those grads had to say about Legion baseball . . .

Yogi Berra, the comical laughing boy of the Yankees said: "Probably the most important thing the program did for me dealt with discipline. It taught me to obey orders and to act as part of the team. They won't stand for any guff in Legion competition, and they don't build grandstand individuals."

A teammate, infielder Jerry Coleman, who played Legion ball in California, said: "The junior program is very important chiefly from the standpoint of coaching. What you learn at the age of 16 and 17 is inclined to stay with you."

"If you start doing things the wrong way, you are likely to go right on making those mistakes," continued Jerry. "Legion clubs have good coaching and splendid guidance. They get you started the proper way, not only on the field, but off it, as well."

Pitcher Sal Maglie of the Giants: "In my early baseball days in Niagara Falls, the Legion game taught me the value of fighting hard. It showed me, with its very competitive atmosphere, that a fellow can't get anywhere unless he works hard at all times. I was competing for a position against bigger boys on my team and that meant I had to fight my way to become a main pitcher. Going out of town as we did to play outside teams was a wonderful treat to me."

Mr. Buddy Green, age 15, of Sierra Madre, has done it again. During the first game of

Kiwanis Hears Lanterman Tell Tax Problems

Frank Lanterman, state assemblyman, was the principal speaker at the Kiwanis luncheon meeting Tuesday at the Woman's Clubhouse.

In discussing state government in general and the state budget in particular, Assemblyman Lanterman said that the approximate one-billion-dollar figure would have gone past that amount if pork barrel politics had been allowed to make it higher.

One of the difficulties in determining the budget, Lanterman said, was the fact that California's population is growing so fast that it is almost impossible to keep up with the

The record is produced by the Real Record Company of Pasadena, in which two Sierra Madrans—Paul Landwehr, 260 W. Carter, Ave., and Walter Emery Johnston, 380 Foothill Ave.—are represented. A hit tune, it now is reportedly pushing past the sales mark of 100,000.

Stanton Selby, director of the Pomona Community Band, also was in the audience during the Sierra Madre Band concert in the park Friday evening.

Following the program, Selby invited the local group to participate in an exchange concert. Tentative plans were discussed by Selby and Roger Gray, director of the Sierra Madre Band. According to Selby, the Pomona musicians could play in Sierra Madre Aug. 12, with the Sierra Madre Band performing in Pomona Aug. 11.

Other guests, besides Lanterman who is a Kiwanian from La Canada, were Edward Wopshall of the Pasadena Kiwanis, and Sierra Madre guests, Councilman Harold Roberts and Tom Schwartz.

News of the Churches

Scientists to Hear 'Spirit' Theme Sunday

"The fruit of the Spirit is in all goodness and righteousness and truth," reads the Golden Text of the Lesson-Sermon on "Spirit" in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday Ephesians 5:9).

The prophet Isaiah says of the allness of Spirit, "Who hath directed the Spirit of the Lord, or being his counselor hath taught him? . . . All nations before him are as nothing; and they are counted to him less than nothing, and vanity . . . To whom then will ye liken me, or shall I be equal? saith the Holy One" (Isaiah 40:13,17,25).

"The Scriptures imply that God is All-in-all . . . The Scriptures also declare that God is Spirit," says a correlative passage in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. She continues, "He fills all space, and it is impossible to conceive of such omnipresence and individuality except as infinite Spirit or Mind." (p. 331).

Rev. Trotter To Tell of 'Shaken Place'

"The Place Was Shaken" is the title of Rev. Mark Crawford Trotter's sermon to be given Sunday at the Sierra Madre Methodist Church.

Rev. Trotter is serving as interim pastor until September when Bishop Kennedy will appoint the new minister to fill the position left open by the transfer of Rev. Raynor Smith to the Methodist Church in Centralia, Wash. Mr. Trotter is a seminary student at Boston University School of Theology, and plans to continue his studies in the fall.

Rev. Trotter finds the text for this week's sermon in the book of Acts. The scripture relates that Peter and John were taken before the court and so the remainder of the brotherhood gathered to join in earnest prayer. In this passage Luke points out some of the characteristics of these early followers of Christ. He points in vivid strokes the unanimity of the company and their sublime faith in prayer.

The text records that when they had gathered for prayer in behalf of Peter and John, the room in which they were assembled was shaken. "And they were all filled with the Holy Spirit and spoke the word of God with boldness."

In his sermon, Rev. Trotter will pursue the theme presented by Luke concerning the power available when the Christian community gathers together in unanimity and places their sublime faith in prayer.

All are reminded that for the month of August, church services will be held at the 9:30 hour only. This new schedule was designed by the official board of the church for the convenience of worshippers during the summer months and to make it possible for parents to worship while their children are in Sunday School. Everyone is invited to participate in the fellowship of building this new church for the community.

Rev. Leach to Substitute For Lindsay

The Rev. Harry Leach, who served the Congregational Church during an interim period recently, will occupy the pulpit of that church again while Rev. George Lindsay is away during the month of August.

The services will continue on schedule, at 9:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. each Sunday, with Mrs. Isabelle Hay-Chapman singing at the 9:30 service and the chancel choir, under the direction of Stewart Matter, presenting an anthem at 11 o'clock.

The church also will be open Thursday evening for young people's recreation in Pritchard Hall. The Pioneer Fellowship—sometimes known as the PFFs—will meet there each Tuesday evening for a crafts program and Bible study for seventh, eighth, and ninth graders under the direction of John Osborne.

The Fortnighters, an adult study group, will meet Aug. 8 and Aug. 22 at the church in the women's parlor for a review of the teachings of Jesus.

'LAW' THEME CONTAINED IN BARNHART'S SERMON

"You Can't Break the Law" is the title for the sermon to be given by Dr. Ethel Barnhart Sunday at the Santa Anita Church of Religious Science, 778 S. Rosemead Blvd. in Pasadena. The church service begins at 11 a.m.

Teacher Weds After 29-Year Career Here

A garden reception followed the marriage Saturday afternoon of Miss F. Claire Newman and John D. Rounsefell. The 4 o'clock ceremony was held at the Sierra Madre Congregational Church.

The bride, whose gown was blue ribbon lace, was given away by her cousin, Clarence Staunton, of Ventura. Mrs. Staunton was matron of honor.

Sue Sauter, niece of the groom, sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." She is the daughter of the Louis J. Sauter of 174 S. Sunnyside Ave. Mr. Sauter was best man for his brother-in-law.

An unusual and moving note to the ceremony was the processional of first grade boys and girls from Miss Newman's last class in the Sierra Madre school district where she has been a teacher for 29 years. The little girls, in pastel dresses, carried nosegays and were escorted by boys in white shirts and dark trousers.

The reception following the ceremony was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Wells, 405 W. Montecito Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Rounsefell will live in Apple Valley on their return from a trip to northern California.

New Citizens Group Formed to Study Schools; Learn Facts on High School

Some 200 Hastings Ranch residents interested in public schools began a new citizens organization last week at a meeting at Don Benito school, with building needs taking a large part of the discussion.

Charles Cole presided at the meeting, with Henry Myers making introductory remarks and Dr. Stuart F. McComb, schools superintendent, present to answer questions.

Mr. Myers told the group that the organization, as yet unnamed, should be, according to the organizing committee, "objective and non-political," and its actions be constructive in nature and "not against some issue" without an alternative solution.

The purposes will be to gather facts on issues facing the Pasadena school system and to present its views to the Board of Education.

Dr. McComb, who was accompanied by Dr. Stuart E. Marsee, assistant superintendent for business, and John Glasser, director of buildings and groups, reviewed the situation of location of a new high school, which is of primary interest in the Hastings area at present.

Dr. McComb said the change from 6-4-4 to 6-3-3-2 two years ago made a high school construction a paramount need.

In answer to a question, he reviewed a study he made with City Manager Don McMillan last year in which eight possible high school sites were considered. The end result of this, after other sites were discarded as too small or improperly located, was that the City Manager recommended the Upper Hastings Ranch area and the schools superintendent recommended the Victory Park site.

Subsequently a suit for eminent domain was instituted to determine use of the Victory Park site, but the suit was dropped by the new school board and a recommendation made to build a junior college in the Upper Hastings area.

In answer to another question, McComb said the county counsel's office had informed him that the Victory Park suit could be re-opened.

Karen Buttane Has Ninth Birthday Party

Karen Buttane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Buttane, 3535 Landfair, celebrated her ninth birthday with a barbecue party July 27 at her home. Karen's birthday actually is July 1, but an untimely case of the mumps caused her party to be postponed.

Her guests enjoyed a patio barbecue, highlighted by traditional ice cream and cake. Her cake brought "oohs" and "aahs" for it was topped with a merry-go-round, complete with tiny animals. The girls played games and watched several colored cartoons.

Present were Diane Hitchcock, Karen Sue Cummins, Jeanne Jennings, Carol and Susan Hurtig, Ann Lubisich, Judy Gaspar, Nancy Stinebaugh, Linda Farmer, Karen Simonson, Tola Martin, Joyce Eastwood, Robin Dake and Sue Buttane.

GIANTS TAKE HASTINGS RANCH LITTLE LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP IN MINOR LOOP

Chris Carroll's prodigious wallop with the bases loaded in the last half of the fifth inning clinched the pennant for the fighting Giants of the Hastings Ranch Little League Minor Loop. The Giants defeated the Cubs in a convincing manner to capture their first flag.

Like true champions the Giants came from behind twice during the game. First, with the Cubs leading, 7 to 3, the Giants tied it up in the last half of the fourth inning. The Cubs staged a rally in the first half of the fifth, scoring five runs; this looked like an insurmountable lead, but the Giants in a methodic and business-like manner whittled the margin until, with one away in the last half of the fifth, Carroll unleashed his triple that cleaned the bases and won the game in dramatic fashion.

Six runs were scored in the fifth stanza and the final score was 13 to 12. Thus Manager John Dubois' Giants ended a very successful season with a total of 14 wins and four losses.

Hardy Phillip went the route for the Giants giving up six hits and five walks, striking out eight. The Cubs used Saureman who gave up 10 hits, nine bases on balls; he struck out seven.

The following five Giant players slammed out two hits apiece: Phillip, Hinkley, L. Rios, Carroll and Dubois. Heavy hitters for the Cubs were Ross and Stubbs with two hits each.

Sierra Madreans in New Credit Union

The newly formed Weco Employees' Federal Credit Union recently received its charter from the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The credit union is formed by employees and their families of the Wianco Engineering Co., 255 N. Halstead Ave., Pasadena, and includes two Sierra Madreans: Floretta Lauber, a member of the board of directors, and Ralph Waller, chairman of the Credit Committee.

Among the advantages offered by the credit union are affiliation with the California Credit Union League, insured loans and life insurance for the members, convenient loans at low interest rates and a payroll thrift plan, expenses of which are being borne by the employees.

FRANKLIN A. FRANCO HOST OLANDA McQUEEN

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin A. Franco, 409 N. Mountain Trail, entertained Miss Olanda McQueen of Washington, D.C. who is visiting in Southern California, and her friend, Miss Doris Hinkley, who is a teacher at Hale School in Pasadena, at a Sunday afternoon luncheon party.

Critic Finds Playhouse Hit A 'Hot' Play in Several Ways

By E. N. VOORHEES

The 1953 Pulitzer Prize play now at the Pasadena Playhouse until Aug. 21, William Inge's "Picnic," seems destined for a crowded run, even in an auditorium that, in my opinion, continues to cry out for air-conditioning or, at least, modern ventilation.

In a small Kansas town in the yard shared by Flo Owens and Helen Potts, the setting of two drab, unpainted houses in the foreground, with a grain elevator and two possibly symbolic pylons of uneven height in the middle distance, all against a vast lonely horizon, there is human loneliness, summer heat, desire for excitement; a beautiful girl "from the wrong side of the tracks," a stranger in town, an evening Labor Day picnic, with a dash of prohibited whisky all around—all these, in one day and night, bring a dramatic rearrangement in most of the 11 human lives involved in the plot.

A kind-hearted widow, Mrs. Potts, with an aged invalid mother bedridden in the house, gives breakfast, including home-made cherry pie, to a muscular young stranger Hal Carter, a wandering wastrel athlete (played by Richard Crane), who has asked her for some yard work to earn an honest dollar. We soon learn that he needs a new shirt in order to call presentably upon a local college fraternity brother, Alan Seymour, who had once loaned him $100.

Next door to Mrs. Potts lives another widow, Flo Owens (Riza Royce) with two young daughters: the young tomboy, Millie (Tamar Cooper), and the romantic Madge (Georgianna Carter), clerk in the local five-and-ten whose melancholy, passive and dream-like personality has cast upon the potentially rich Alan an hypnotic sleep of devotion, which Madge's mother hopes to maintain as far as the altar and a life of ease for Madge.

Also living in the Owens' house is Rosemary Sydney (Mary Todd), a highly emotional school teacher, verging on middle-age, whose "boy friend" Howard, age 42 (Joseph Mell), is increasingly in no hurry to take on the added responsibility of legalized marriage.

Hal, the athletic stranger, through his boasting, muscular posing, and amiable good nature arouses conflicting bids for attention from four of the five women—only Flo Owens being understandingly hostile to Hal's threat to her daughter's chances of winning the socially desirable Alan, for, with all his natural gifts, Hal is by heredity and background a social and financial nobody.

Strangely enough, yet quite naturally, it is the surprise ending that actually reveals the central idea to be as "good" in the ethical sense as the play itself is masterly in its construction and character portrayal.

The play is well cast throughout, almost entirely by persons of wide stage experience and suitable ages who, by intelligent team work, give a sense of actuality to a highly theatrical situation that turns out to be eminently human as well as consummately contrived.

Reds, Braves to Battle for Little League Championship This Weekend

Little League activities in Hastings Ranch will close with a series this weekend between the Reds (Transit Mixed Concrete) and the Braves (Hastings Center), the two top major leagues, to determine the Hastings champions.

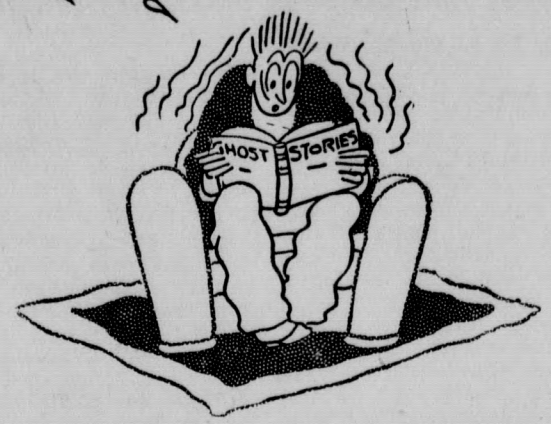

The Hastings All-Stars, composed of 14 boys from the four majors, defeated the Altadena West All-Stars, 6-1, in what was considered an upset last week. But the "Ranchers" lost their next game, 0-3 to Altadena East, eliminating them from the playoffs. The Pasadena Central team emerged victorious from playoffs in the Pasadena-Altadena area and was scheduled to continue in its climb uphill against Arcadia victors.

Reds and Braves will meet for the first of their two-out-of-three series at 5:30 p.m. Friday, Aug. 5, at the Consolidated Engineering field. The second game will be at 2 p.m. Saturday, and if a third is played it will be at 2 p.m. Sunday. During the series, awards will be made to the Little Leaguers.

Major leaguers also were rewarded with a trip with their fathers by special buses to the Shrine North-South high school all-star football game at the Coliseum.

Members of the Hastings All-Stars and their teams were: Don Field, Frank Fey, Ron Rosier, Bobby Davis and John Wallace of the Reds (Transit Mix Concrete); Jock McGraw, Sterling Peacock, Dave Kadison, Keith Olwin, Bill Taylor and Johnny Werbelow of the Braves (Hastings Center); Ricky Bergholz and Leonard Reed of the Indians (Hammond Manufacturing), and Al Alvarez of the Yankees (Winterbottom Plumbing).

Next Tennis Tourney Set For Aug. 14

The next tournament promoted by the Sierra Madre Tennis Club is scheduled at City Park Sunday, Aug. 14, for all tennis enthusiasts in the vicinity whether or not they be members of the club.

Reconstruction of the two courts at City Park is expected to be completed by that date. If the new surfaces are delayed beyond that time the tennis tourney, to be the third one of the 1955 summer season, will be postponed until such a time when the new courts will be ready for play.

With the Aug. 14 tournament date still holding, all entries must be sent to the club secretary, Peter Cowell, 109 E. Grandview Ave., by 9 p.m. Aug. 12. The individual entry fee is $1. Funds collected from the fees are used to help pay the expenses of tournament trophies and other equipment.

The Sierra Madre Tennis Club, a fast growing group in the locality within the past two years, consists of approximately 40 dues-paying subscribers with about 30 more prospective members on the list, most of whom are active tennis players. A lesser percentage of them, however, is represented by those who wish only to see the sport developed within the Sierra Madre area.

AROUND THE SQUARE

reminds us of the many summers we have spent there. Canoe trips. Little Moose River. Tomahawk River. Crooked River. Rattlesnake River—all kinds of rivers and lakes where eventually you encounter the rapids or a log jam. That's when the fun begins.

Remember Skowhegan, the town that got its name when an Indian discovered that a thief had stolen his boat—“Skow he gone”? And, brother, if you have never tried to tip-toe across a log jam then you have never lived dangerously. You've got to move your feet faster than a polka to keep from sinking.

Otherwise—goodby, kiddo. Hope you can swim!

per columnist, who described the picture in his column, “What Do You Think,” in last week's issue of the Sierra Madre NEWS.

Among other attractive features of the picture, Shippey pointed out the facts that the movie is of interest to children as well as adults, and that it contains no commercials.

“In the Beginning,” described as a “saga of the earth's history,” was awarded by the Southern California Motion Picture Council, Inc., as being the best educational picture of the year at the time of its release.

It also received highest honors at the Motion Picture Festival in Boston, along with many other awards.

Key Club

stone, when he woke from a sound sleep to hear a squad of bears arguing as to which one would have the first bite.

When Tarb's reflexes stopped reflexing long enough to poke a quivering eye from his sleeping bag, he discovered that the bears were imaginary but that he was face-to-face with a large buck and his dream-eyed doe. Our hero began breathing again when the buck, after giving him a thorough inspection, decided that little six-foot-five Tarb wasn't worth a scratched hatrack.

The entire trip was memorable, with a barbecue in Houston, a side trip to Carlsbad Caverns, and real Dixieland in New Orleans. Two days in New York City proved that Rockettes present structural advantages as interesting as Brooklyn Bridge. In Washington, D.C., the boys chatted with Vice President Nixon, rode the underground train to the Senate Building, and sat in John Adams' famous seat to solve the mystery of the “whispering walls.” Everywhere they were met by Kiwanees and Key Clubbers who dined, entertained, and guided the delegates.

The convention is a fitting climax to a Key Clubber's graduation. The majority of the boys are invited to join in the tenth grade. Most clubs require above average grades, and members are recommended by teachers and administrators, after showing willingness and ability to participate in school activities.

All Key Clubbers are outstanding in some respect, and though some people may want their news to be more startling than that may come later when these fellows make the headlines. Even then, their news undoubtedly will be along the more conservative, solid side without having to resort to sensationalism.

They will be the ones to give proof to the motto of the 1955 convention: “The Youth of Today—the Leaders of Tomorrow.”

What a man sows he shall reap—unless perhaps he happens to be an amateur gardener.

Club Lists Most Popular Tourist Spots

What did out-of-state motorists want to see most when they were in Southern California last year?

A survey just completed by the Automobile Club of Southern California could not single out the main attraction, but it was able to come up with the 10 most popular natural and man-made attractions—according to queries of 1,000,000 tourists in 1954.

The naturals:

Beaches, Catalina Island, Colorado and Mojave Deserts, Death Valley National Monument, Joshua Tree National Monument, Morro Bay, Mt. Whitney, Salton Sea, San Bernardino Mountain area and Sequoia and Kings Canyon National Parks.

The 10 leading man-made attractions were Farmers Market, Forest Lawn, Hollywood (studios and stars' homes), Huntington Library, Knott's Berry Farm, Marineland, the Missions, Palm Springs, Palomar Observatory and television and radio studios.

You can't spend more than you make and get away with it.

WHY WAIT?

Many people wait so long for their ship to come in the pier caves in before arrival time.
